STSM partnered with 4 elementary schools, 27 middle and high schools, 8 colleges, 48 businesses or faith organizations and 6 correctional institutions to facilitate a variety of community education and outreach programs.

"Over the 6 week [educational program], I have learned some very informative information (sic) that has helped me better understand why people have certain rules ... to protect individuals. These sessions altered my way of thinking in a positive manner because it'll help me and others be cautious and think before we do things, and to know things like what a healthy relationship is."

-High School Student

“Our goal is to make survivors feel more knowledgeable and supported in the legal system. Whether it is court accompaniment, questions about the criminal justice process, accompaniment when making a police report, or finding an attorney for a survivor; STSM hopes to be able to empower survivors through their healing process.”

–Marie Sazehn, Esq., STSM Director of Advocacy

VOLUNTEERS

STSM volunteers are critical in furthering our mission to support survivors and prevent sexual violence. Often, a volunteer is the first face a survivor sees after an assault or the first voice they hear on the hotline. Volunteers answer the 24-hour hotline, accompany survivors at the hospital, attend community events to raise awareness of STSM's services and assist staff in all five office locations.

Throughout the past year, 123 STSM volunteers donated 15,013 hours. Their time is valued at $375,325.

"I've seen my loved ones struggle to heal after an assault due to a lack of community resources. I'm so proud to be a part of this organization and its vision of healthy survivors, thriving in a community free of sexual violence."

-STSM Volunteer

THANKS TO YOU...

STSM's services for survivors and their loved ones are provided at no cost because of volunteers and donors who give generously of their time, talents and resources.

"Men play a critical role in ending sexual violence. We see, hear, and believe survivors and, standing together, we won't allow these crimes to fester in silence any longer."

-John Wilkinson, Donor and Former Board Member

Our donors are individuals, corporations and organizations. Donors contribute because they share our vision of a safer and healthier community, free of sexual violence.

FROM THE BOARD PRESIDENT

This year has brought change and growth to STSM. We have expanded services and hired an inspiring new Executive Director, Rebecca Lorick. Additionally, this year has challenged us financially; STSM experienced a decrease in federal funding. Due to threats that were made to the safety of our staff, we were forced to cancel the 2019 Walk a Mile in Their Shoes. However, the community rallied around our organization and we were able to raise a record-breaking amount for survivors. Through the ups and downs of this year, the staff and board of STSM have remained focused on achieving our mission: to advocate for and support survivors of sexual assault and to prevent sexual violence. With your support and volunteerism, this mission is possible. On behalf of the Board of Directors, thank you for each dollar you have graciously given and each hour you have generously volunteered.

Supporting Survivors Together,
Katie Fox, Board President

STSM is committed to being a good steward of the resources entrusted to us and we value those who support our mission with these resources. To view our financial information, please visit our website, www.stsm.org/about-stsm/who-we-are
